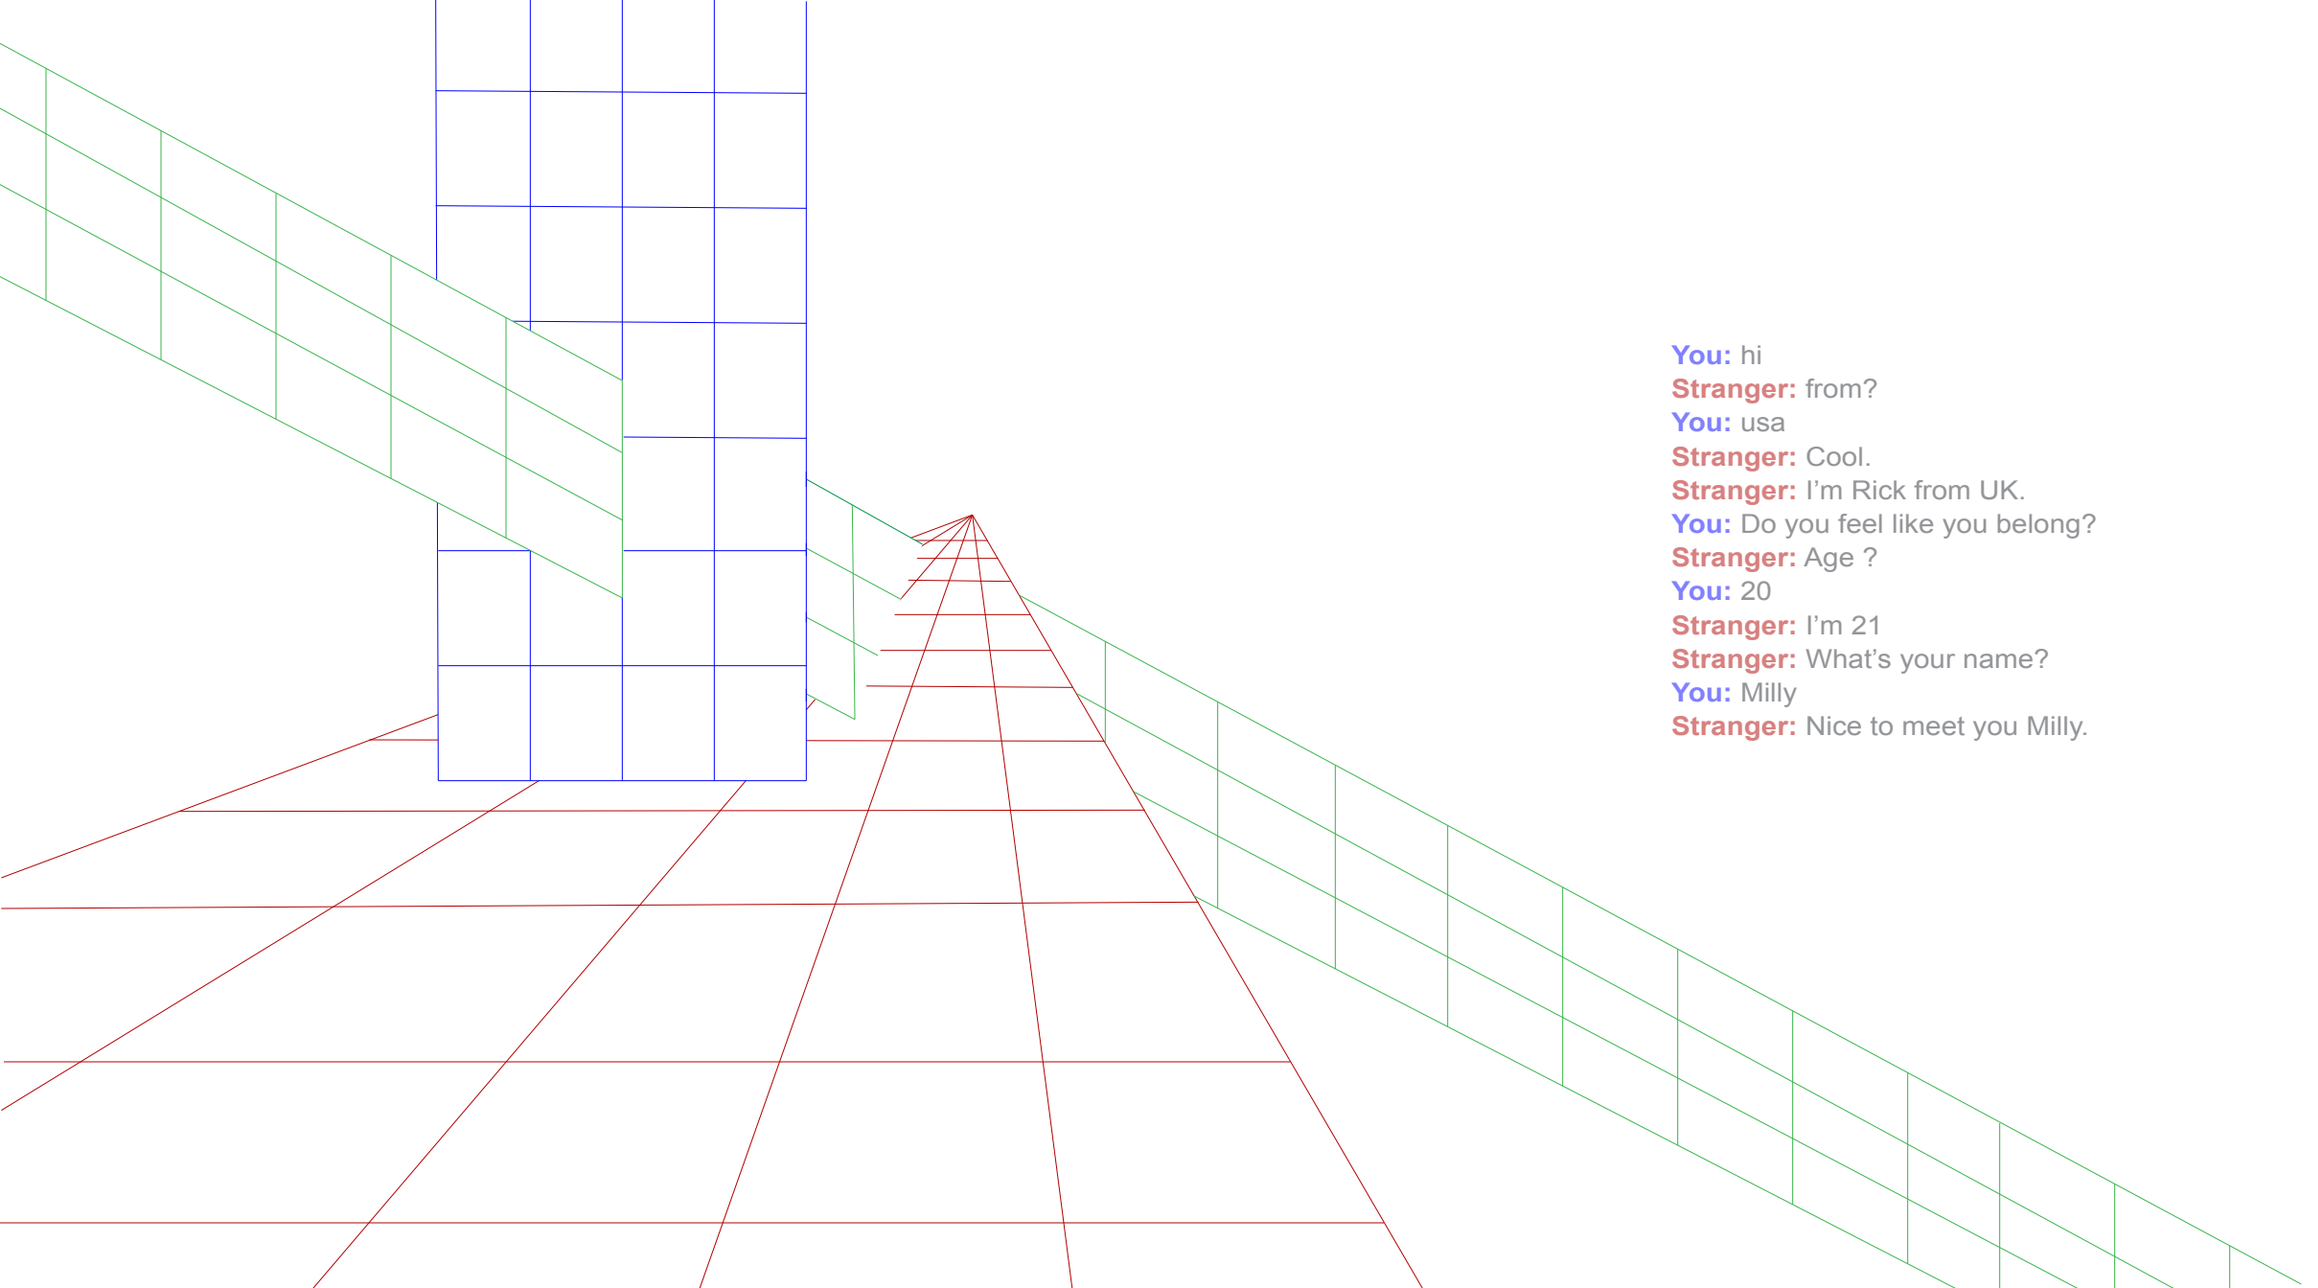
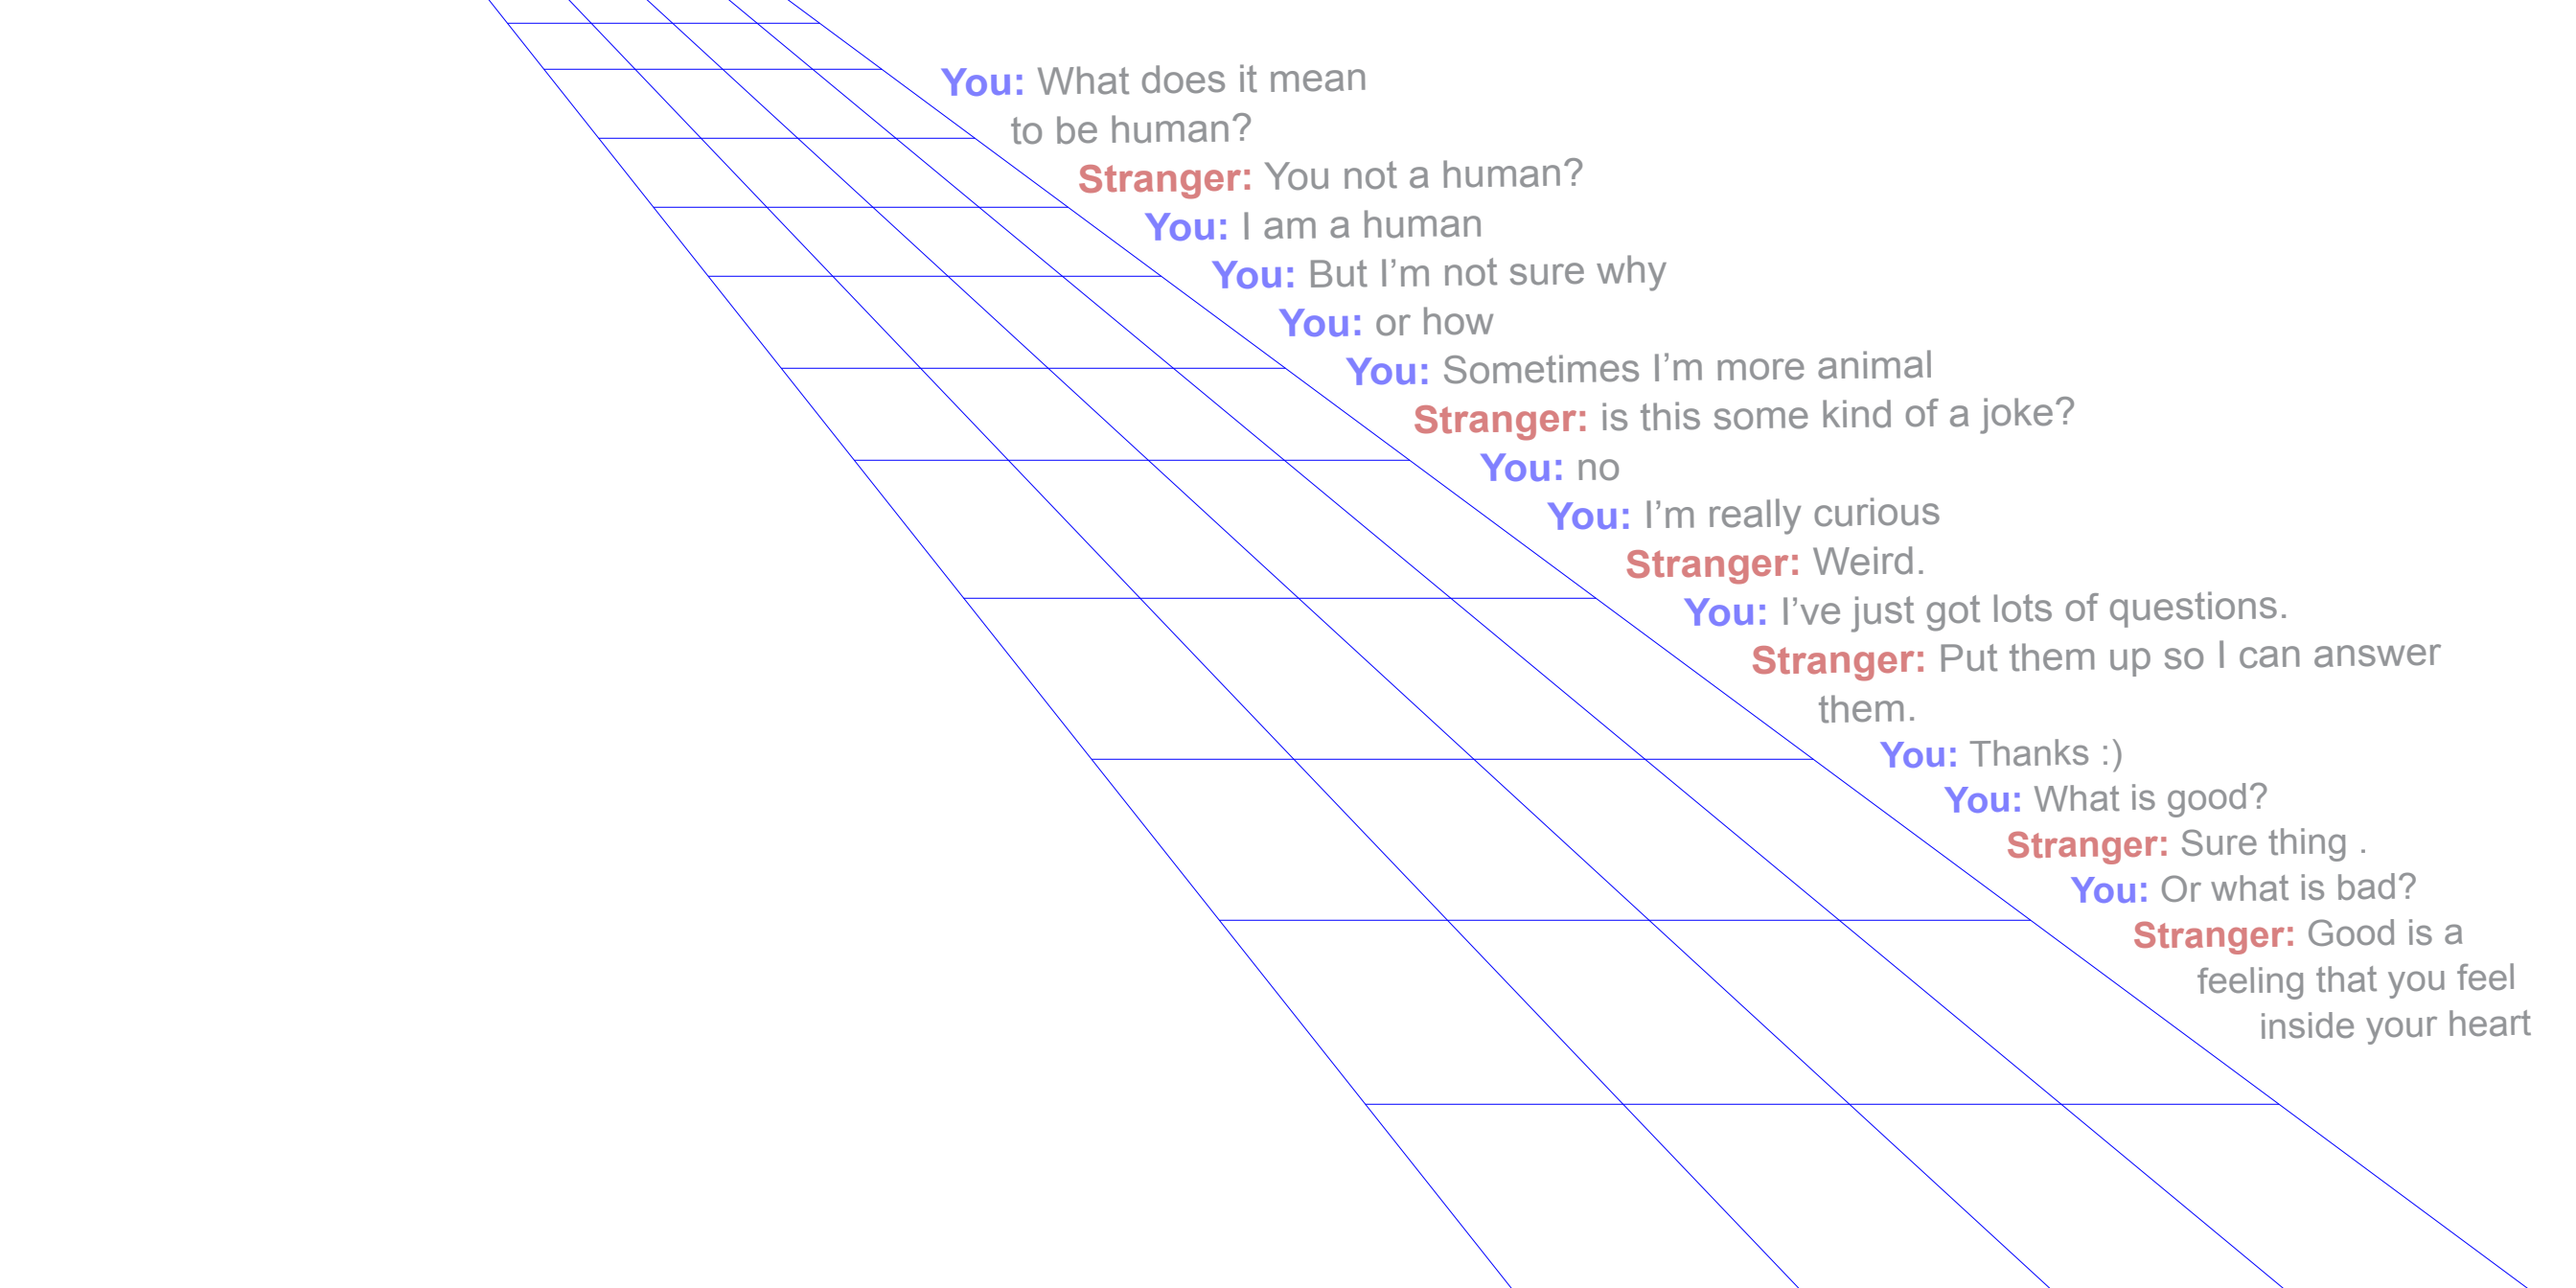
For all those who question



You: hi
Stranger: from?
You: usa
Stranger: Cool.
Stranger: I'm Rick from UK.
You: Do you feel like you belong?
Stranger: Age ?
You: 20
Stranger: I'm 21
Stranger: What's your name?
You: Milly
Stranger: Nice to meet you Milly.



You: What does it mean to be human?
Stranger: You not a human?
You: I am a human
You: But I'm not sure why
You: or how
You: Sometimes I'm more animal
Stranger: is this some kind of a joke?
You: no
You: I'm really curious
Stranger: Weird.
You: I've just got lots of questions.
Stranger: Put them up so I can answer them.
You: Thanks :)
You: What is good?
Stranger: Sure thing .
You: Or what is bad?
Stranger: Good is a feeling that you feel inside your heart

Stranger: You wanna know bad .
You: Yeah I'd like to know

Stranger: Bad is something you which is not like by others .
Stranger: I mean the things which you are not admirable by others.
You: but what if I do something that feels good in my heart
You: but is not admirable by others
You: then what is it?
Stranger: It's a state where you get confused .
Stranger: Can you give me a situation where I can explain in detail?
You: I'm studying art and yesterday I presented a piece that I was happy with
You: but no one liked it
You: Is that good or bad?

Stranger: in this case it’s not related to good or bad .
Stranger: It’s just the opinion of others on that art.
Stranger: You don’t need to feel sad for that.
Stranger: Give it a best shot again.
Stranger: Never give up.
You: Thank you
You: That was really kind
You: What makes people kind?
Stranger: Yeah mention not.
Stranger: A Good heart .
You: It seems like the brain is in the heart
You: like our heart is doing the deciding
You: according to you
Stranger: Yeah .
Stranger: I mean we need brain to take decisions
Stranger: But ultimately heart says good.

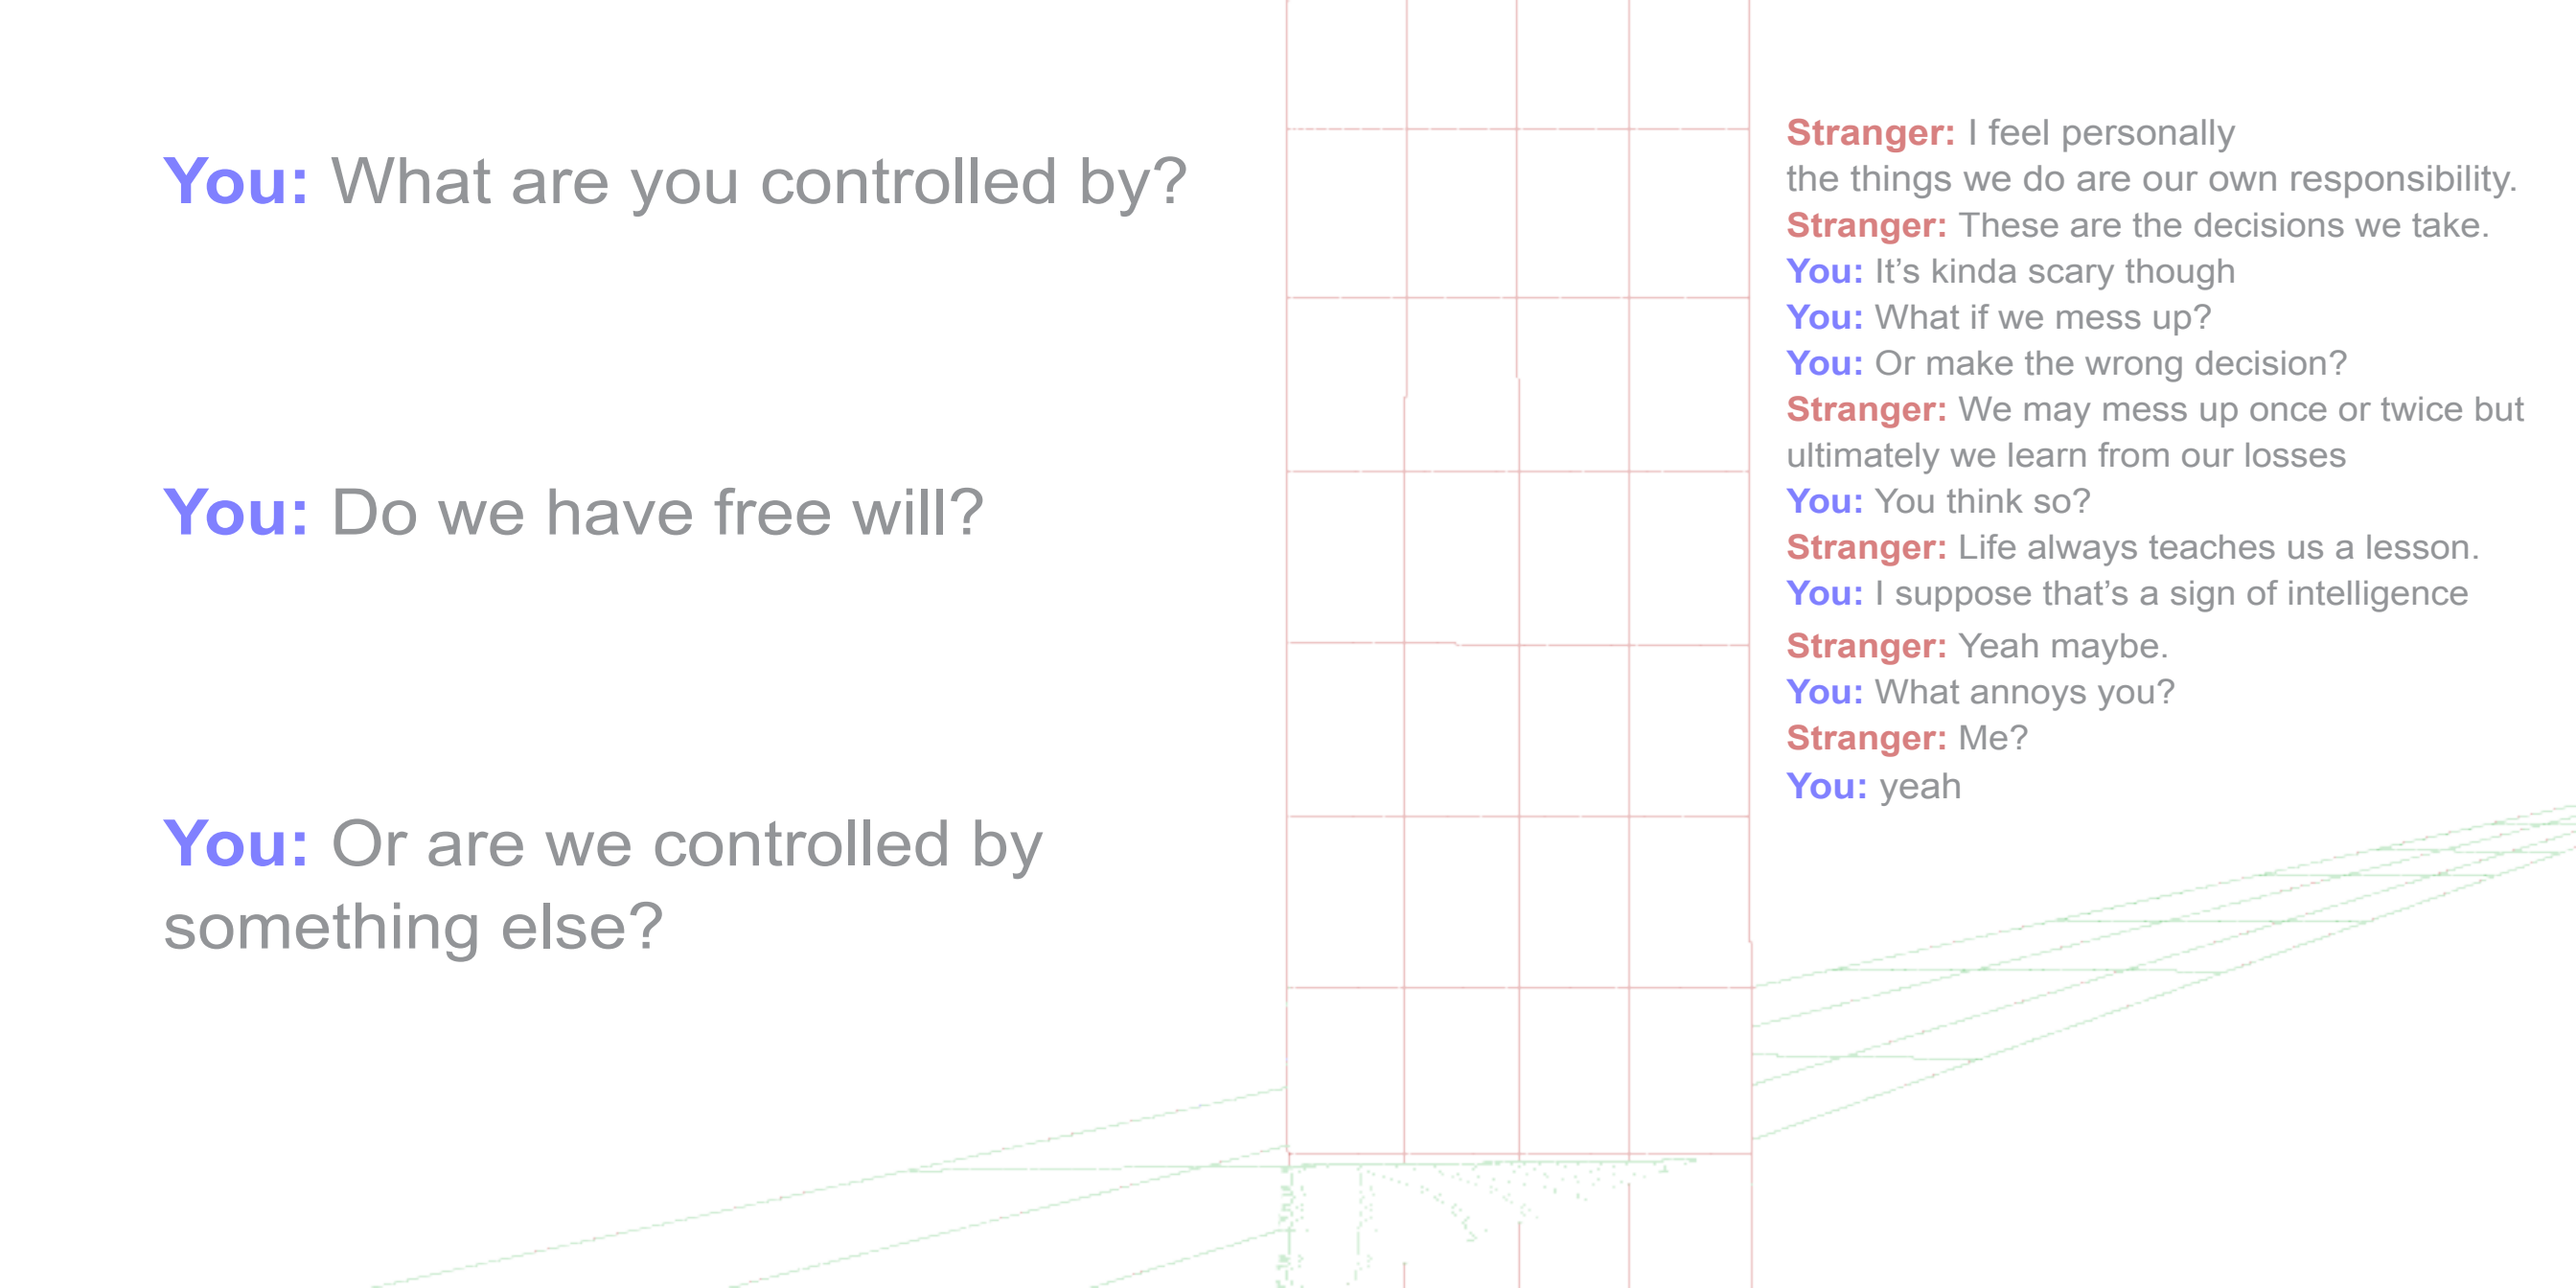
You: Alright
You: That’s cool

Stranger: Milly you have a lot of questions .
You: Do you have time for more?
Stranger: Sure thing.
Stranger: Go ahead.

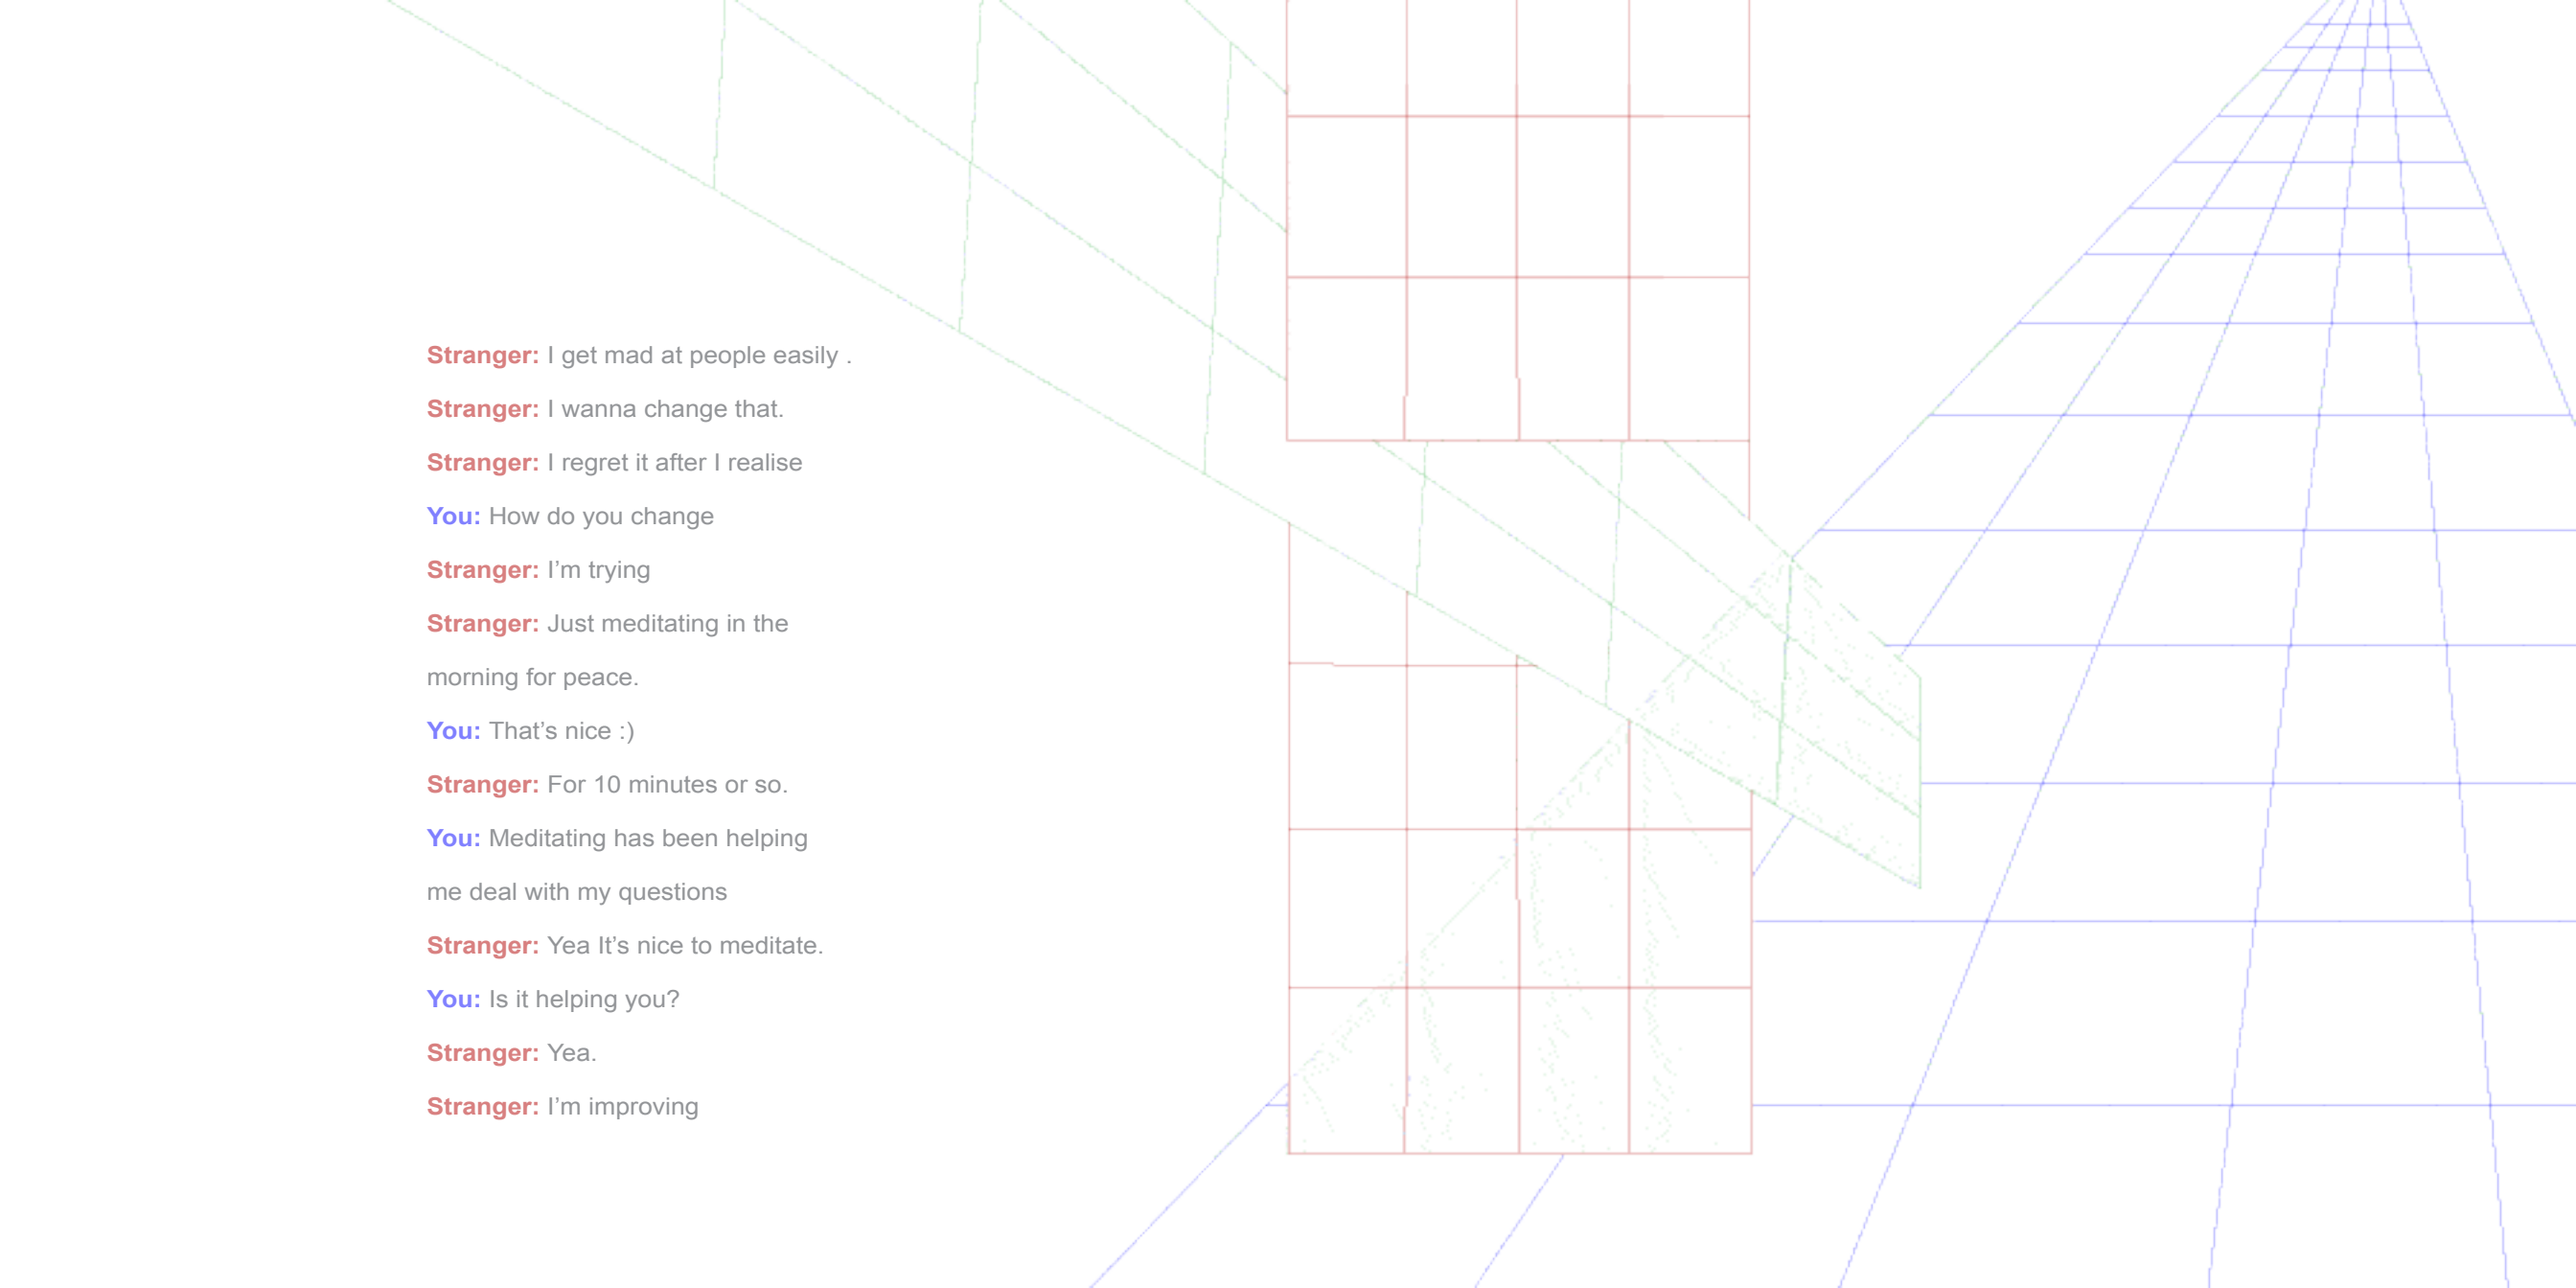
You: What are you controlled by?

You: Do we have free will?

You: Or are we controlled by something else?



Stranger: I feel personally
the things we do are our own responsibility.
Stranger: These are the decisions we take.
You: It's kinda scary though
You: What if we mess up?
You: Or make the wrong decision?
Stranger: We may mess up once or twice but ultimately we learn from our losses
You: You think so?
Stranger: Life always teaches us a lesson.
You: I suppose that's a sign of intelligence
Stranger: Yeah maybe.
You: What annoys you?
Stranger: Me?
You: yeah



Stranger: I get mad at people easily .

Stranger: I wanna change that.

Stranger: I regret it after I realise

You: How do you change

Stranger: I'm trying

Stranger: Just meditating in the morning for peace.

You: That's nice :)

Stranger: For 10 minutes or so.

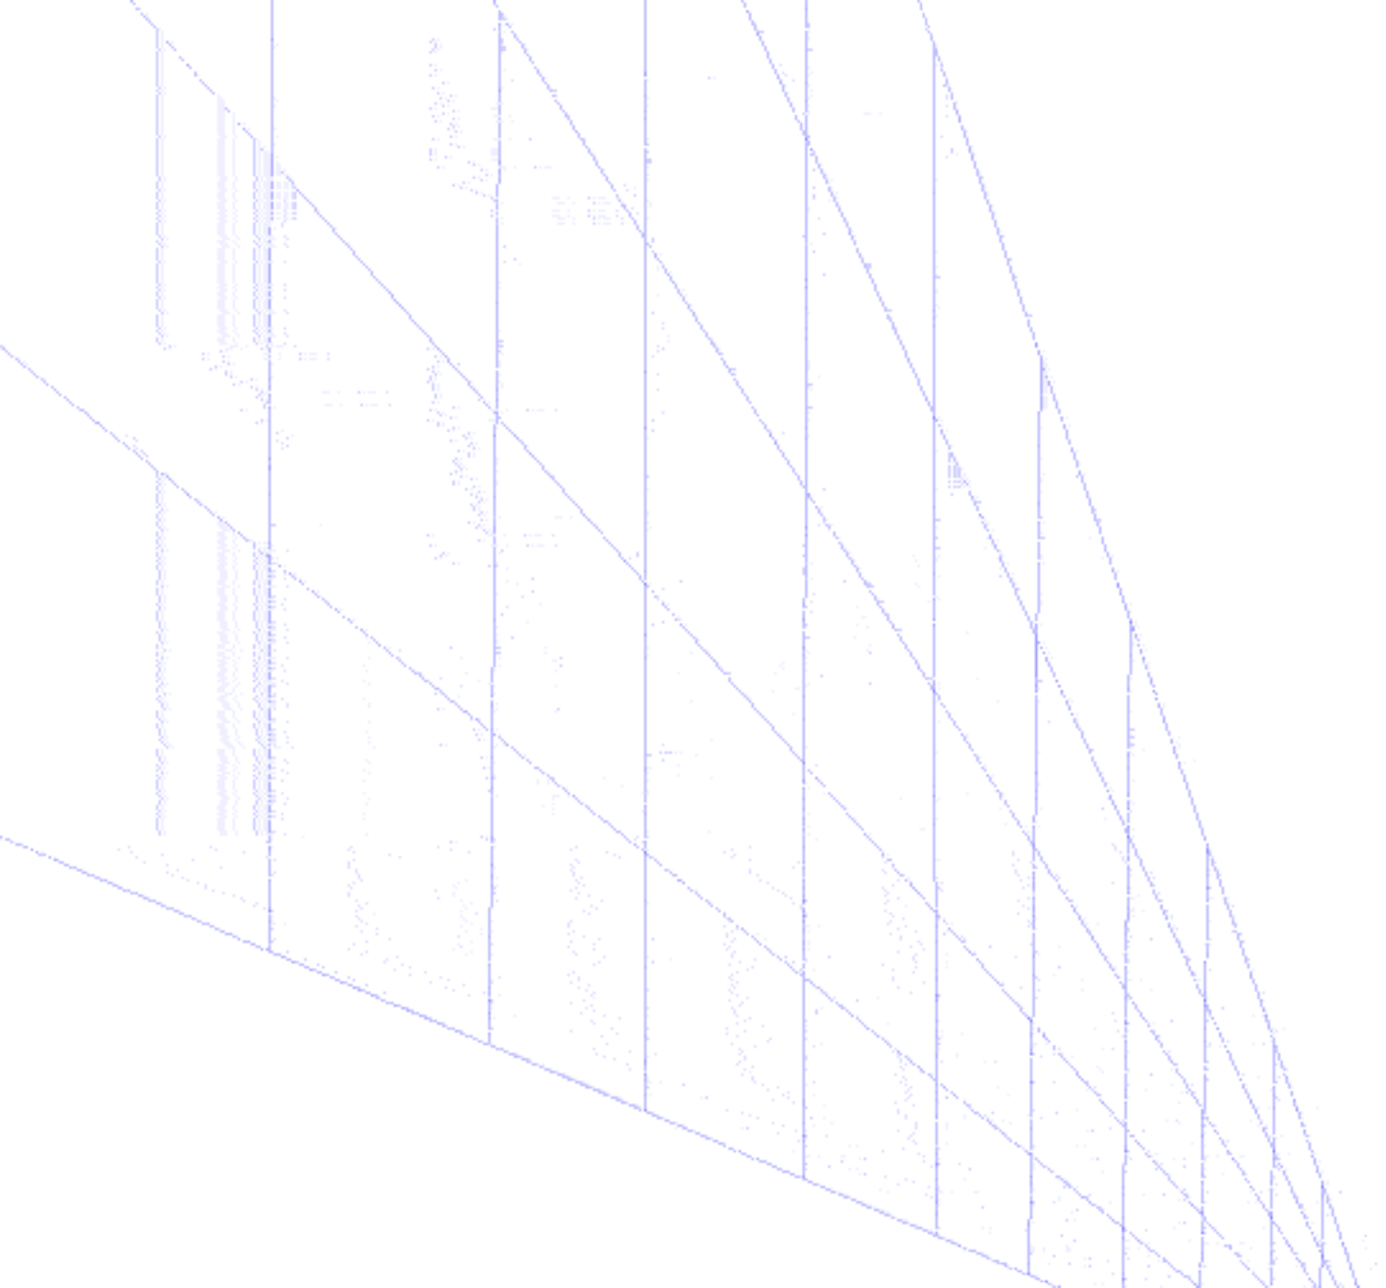
You: Meditating has been helping me deal with my questions

Stranger: Yea It's nice to meditate.

You: Is it helping you?

Stranger: Yea.

Stranger: I'm improving



Stranger: You there?
You: Yeah I'm here
You: What makes you feel loved?
Stranger: What made you ask these many questions?

You: Thats a really good question

Stranger: Love is the most beautiful thing in the world

Stranger: According to me.

You: What does it feel like?

Stranger: It’s like here a special person for you no matter what problems you are facing.

You: That sounds wonderful

Stranger: He or she will always be behind you in every situation .

Stranger: But you need to find true love.

Stranger: You didn’t answer my question?

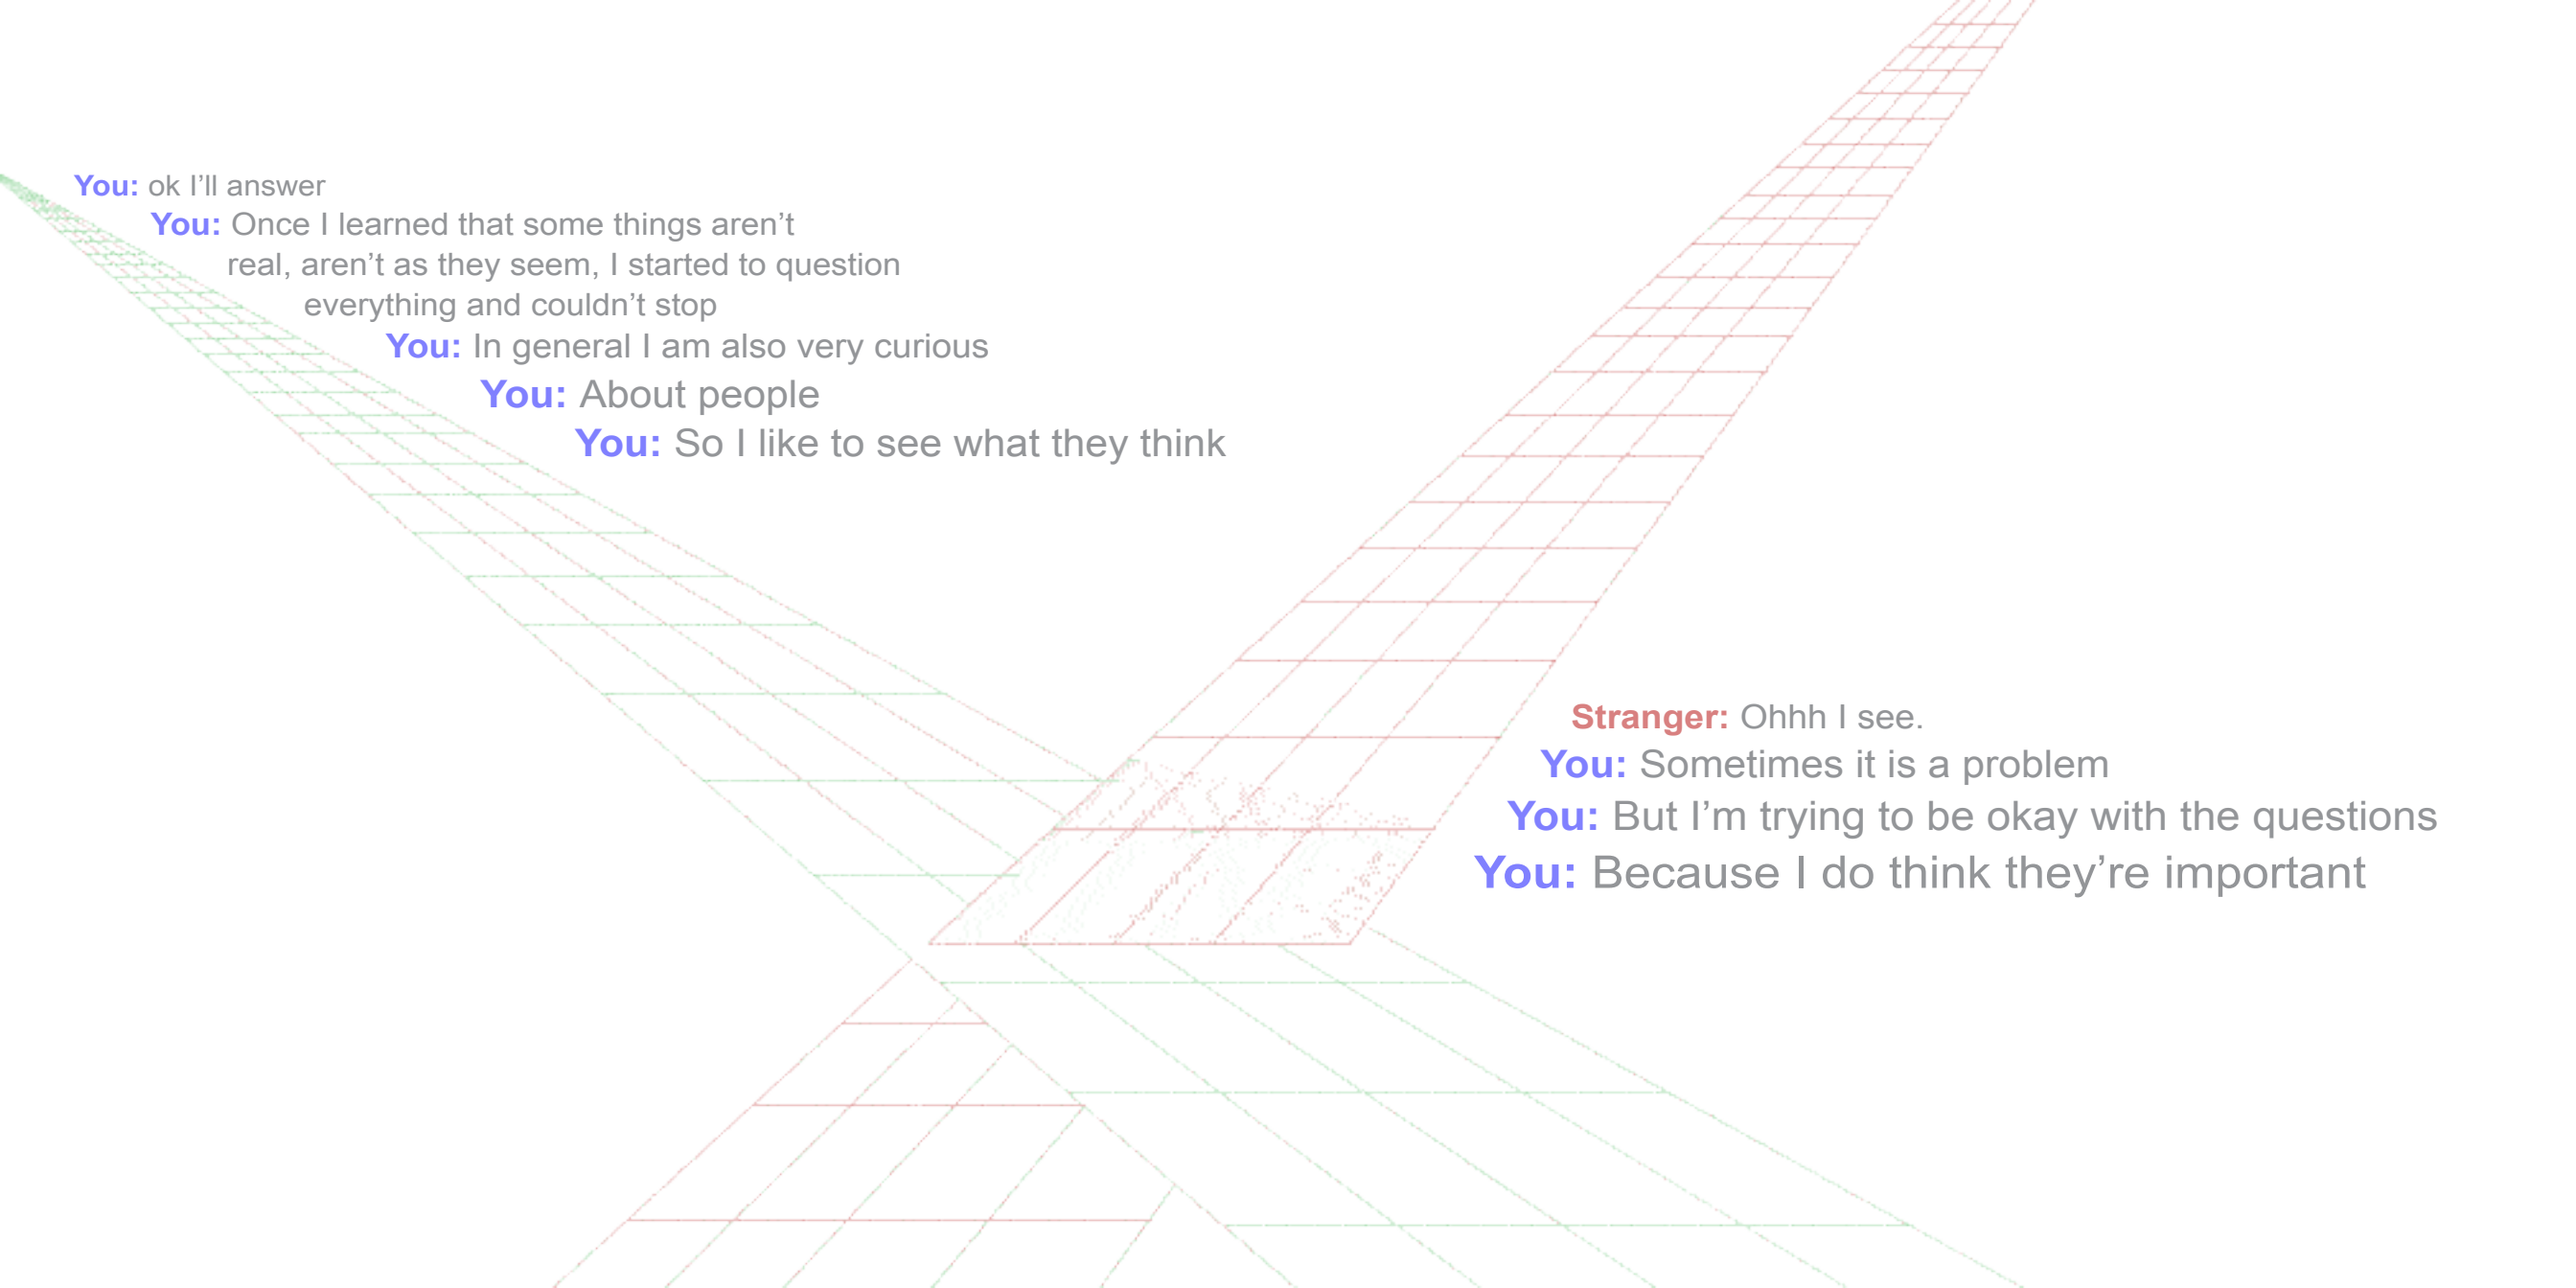
You: ok I'll answer

You: Once I learned that some things aren't real, aren't as they seem, I started to question everything and couldn't stop

You: In general I am also very curious

You: About people

You: So I like to see what they think



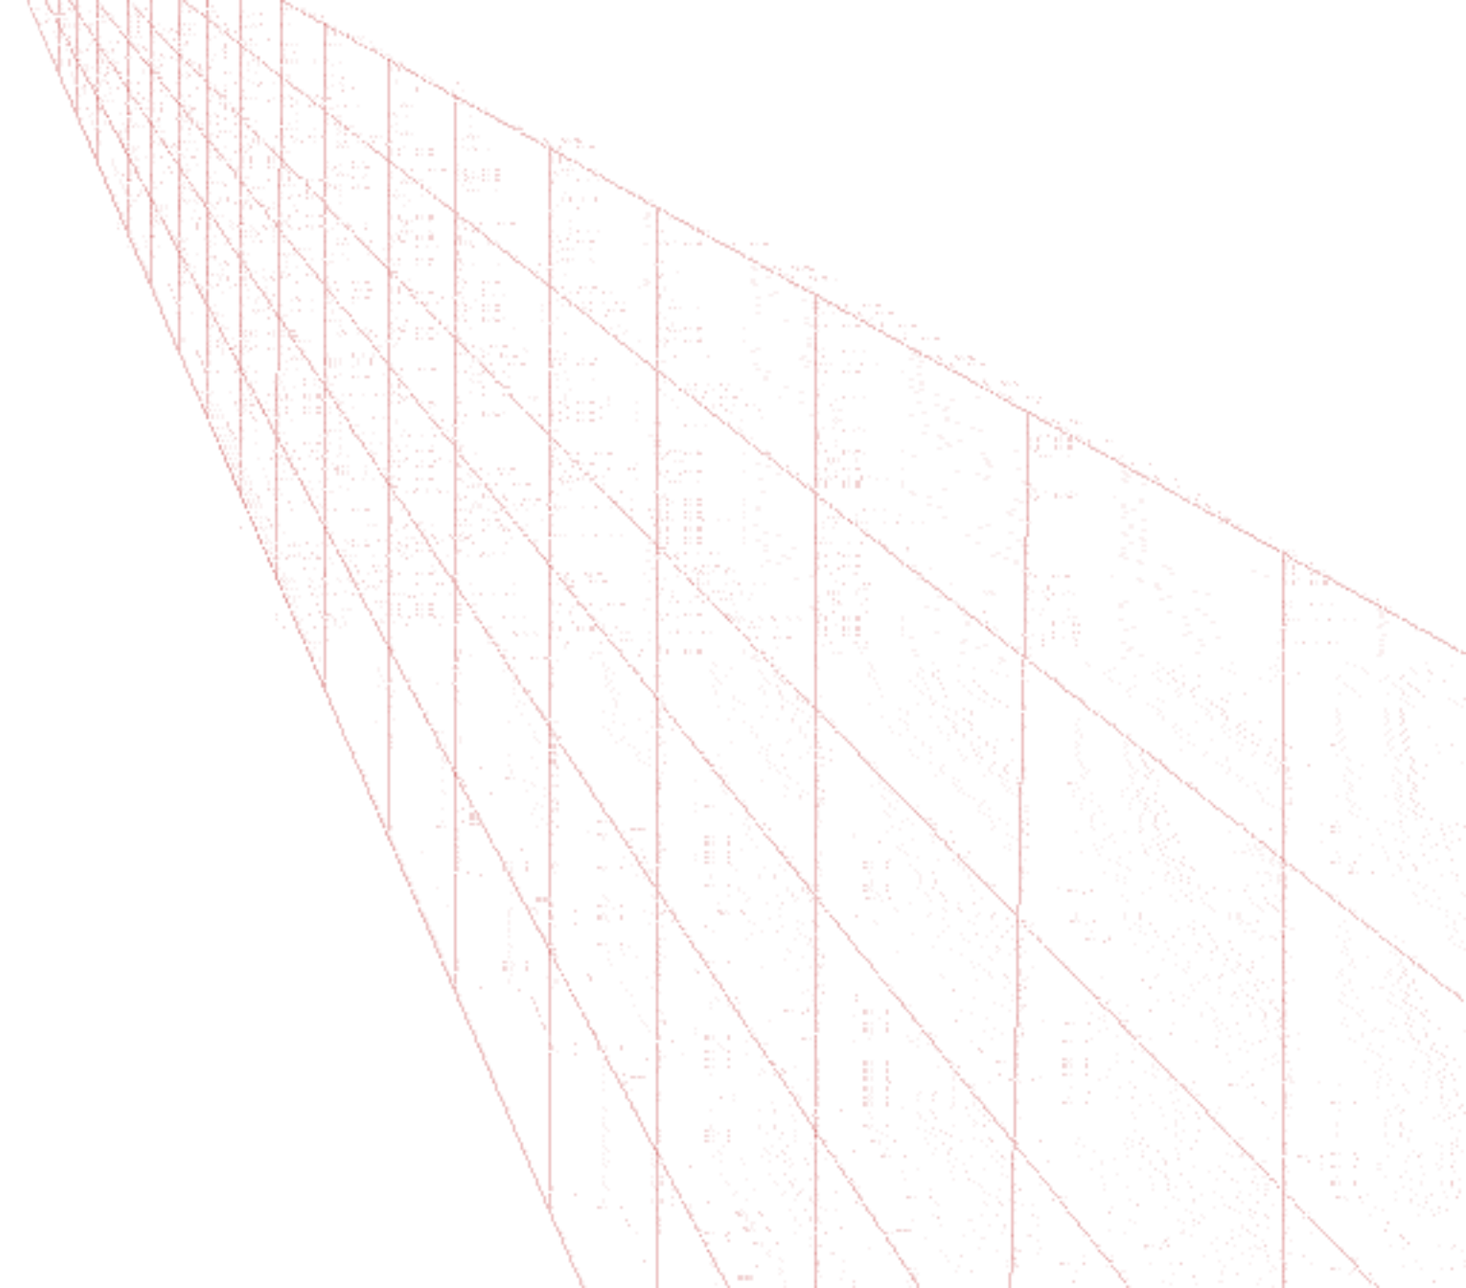
Stranger: Ohhh I see.

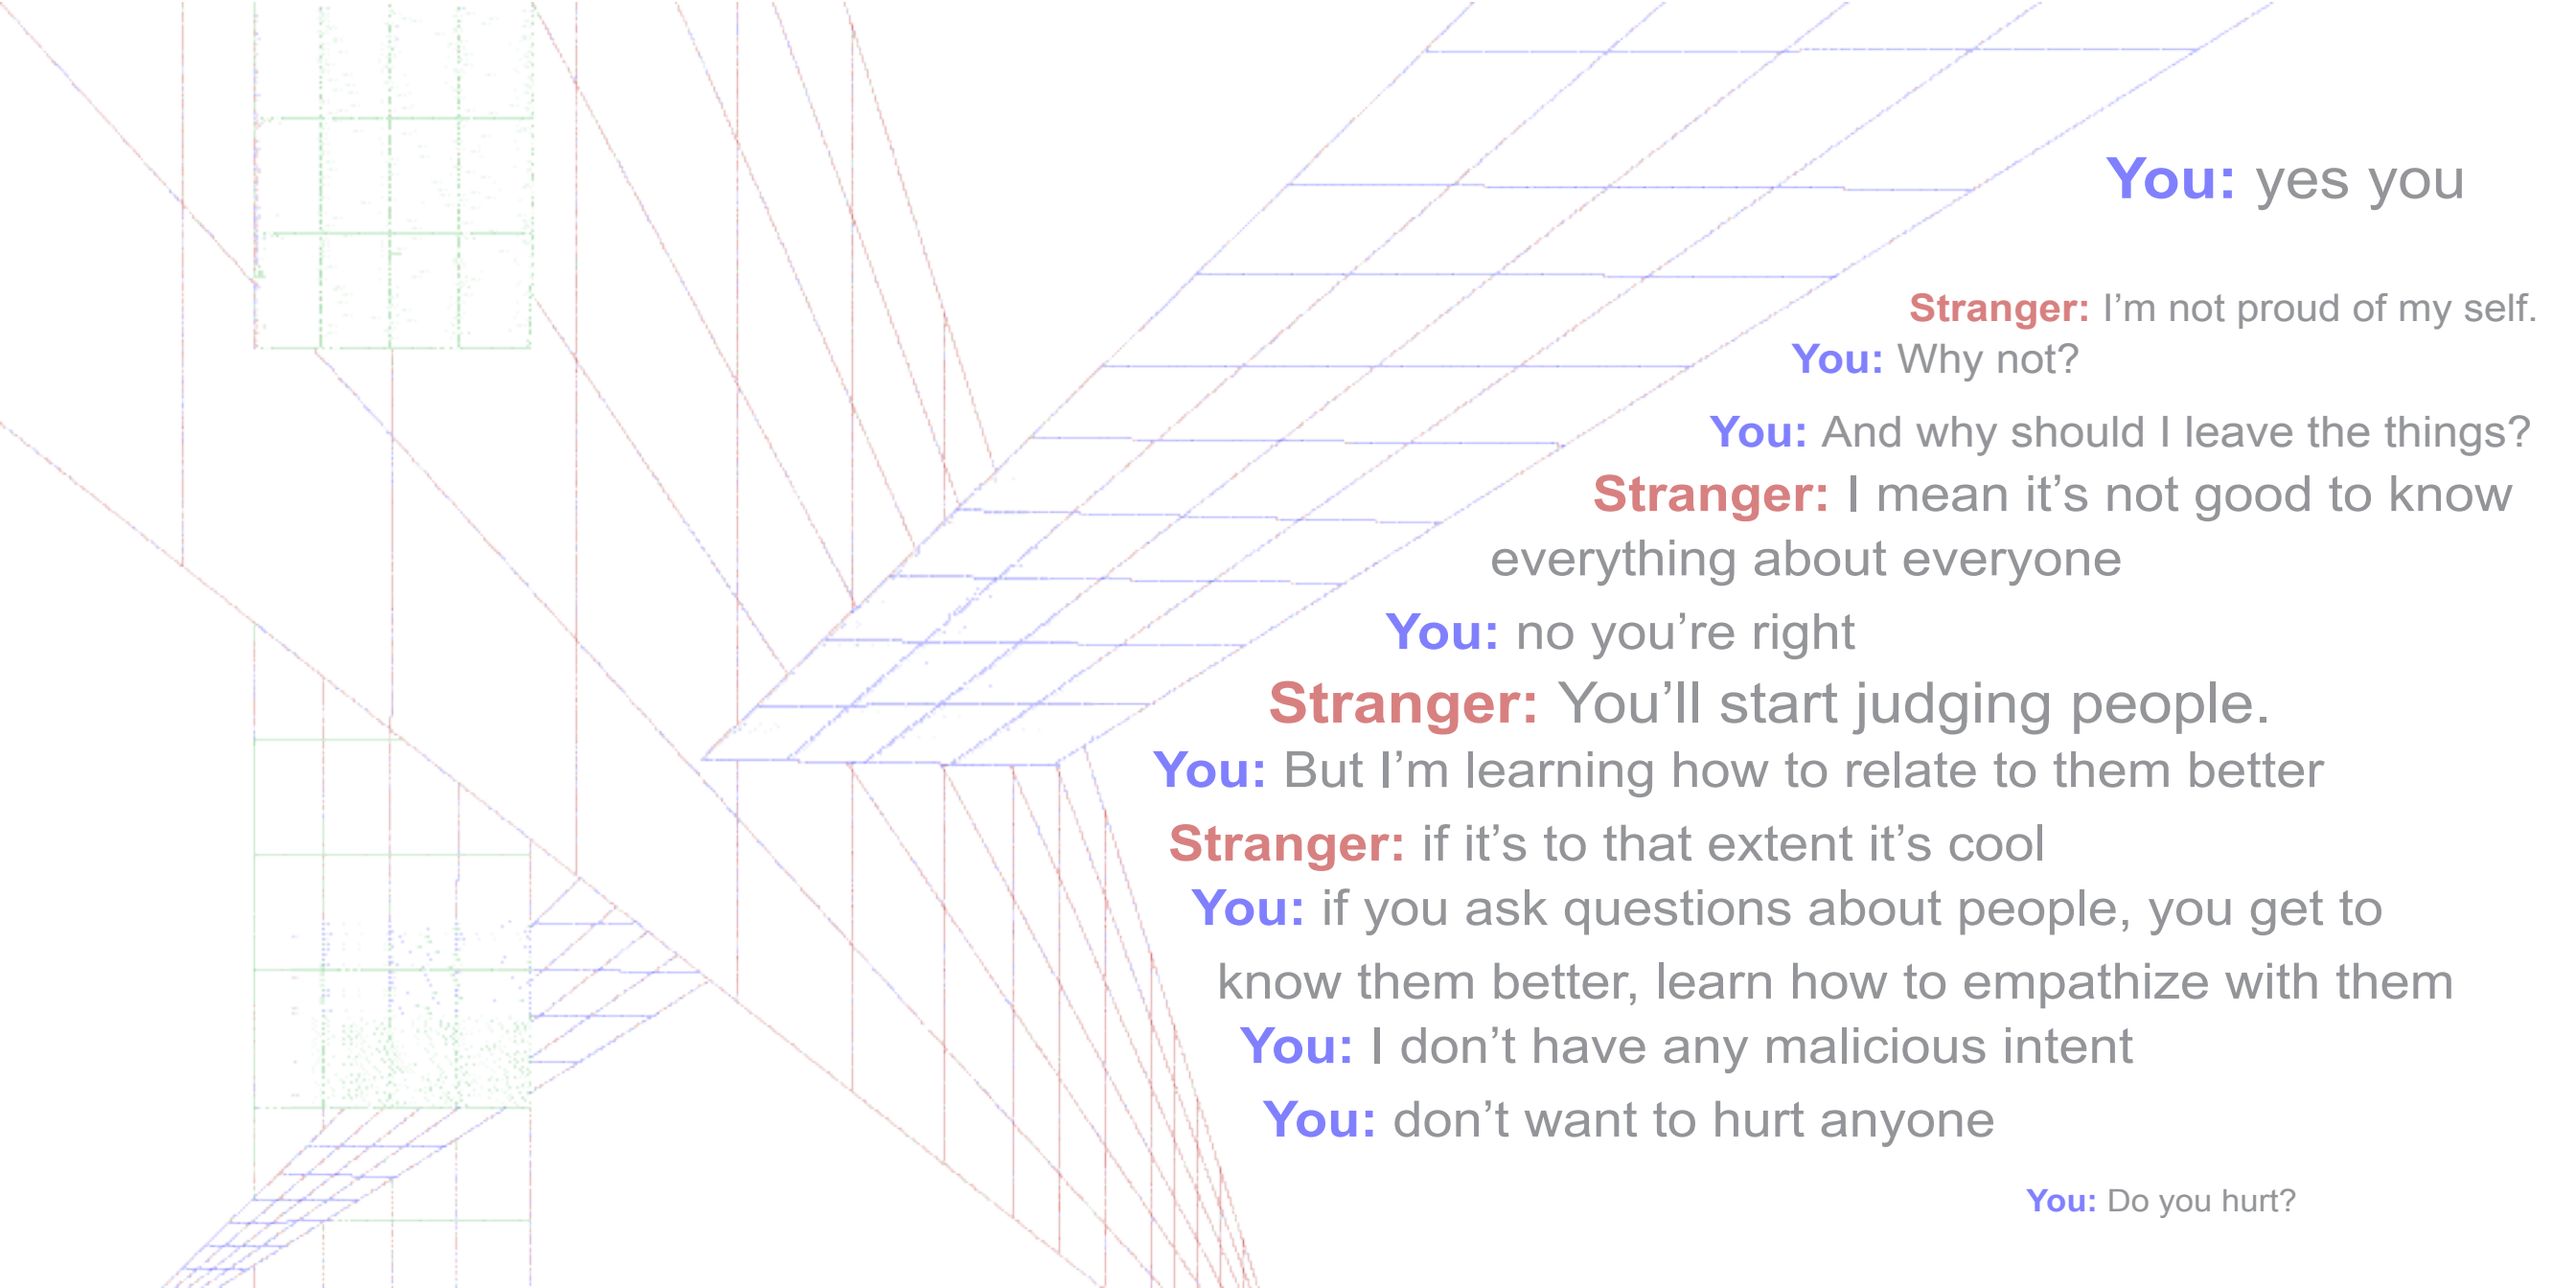
You: Sometimes it is a problem

You: But I'm trying to be okay with the questions

You: Because I do think they're important

Stranger: Don’t be so curious about things.
Stranger: Just leave them as they are.
You: Why?
Stranger: Me ?





You: yes you

Stranger: I'm not proud of my self.

You: Why not?

You: And why should I leave the things?

Stranger: I mean it's not good to know everything about everyone

You: no you're right

Stranger: You'll start judging people.

You: But I'm learning how to relate to them better

Stranger: if it's to that extent it's cool

You: if you ask questions about people, you get to know them better, learn how to empathize with them

You: I don't have any malicious intent

You: don't want to hurt anyone

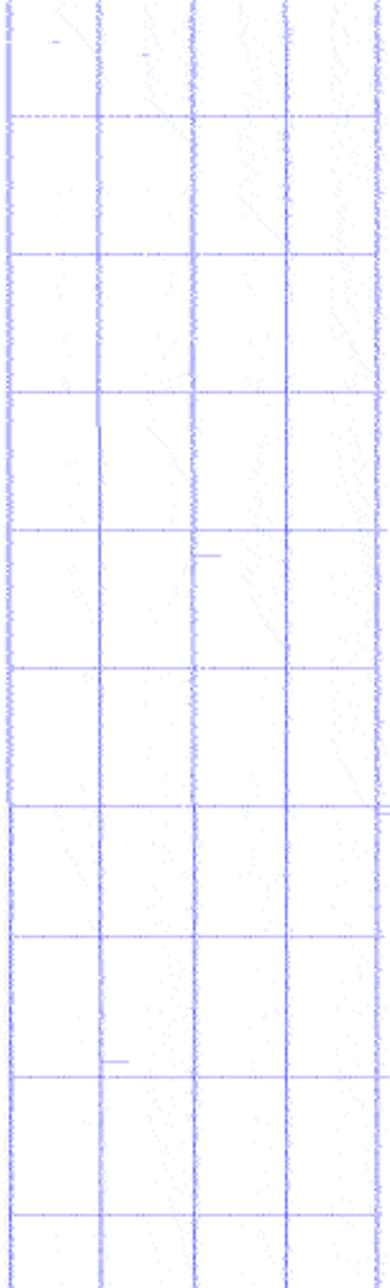
You: Do you hurt?

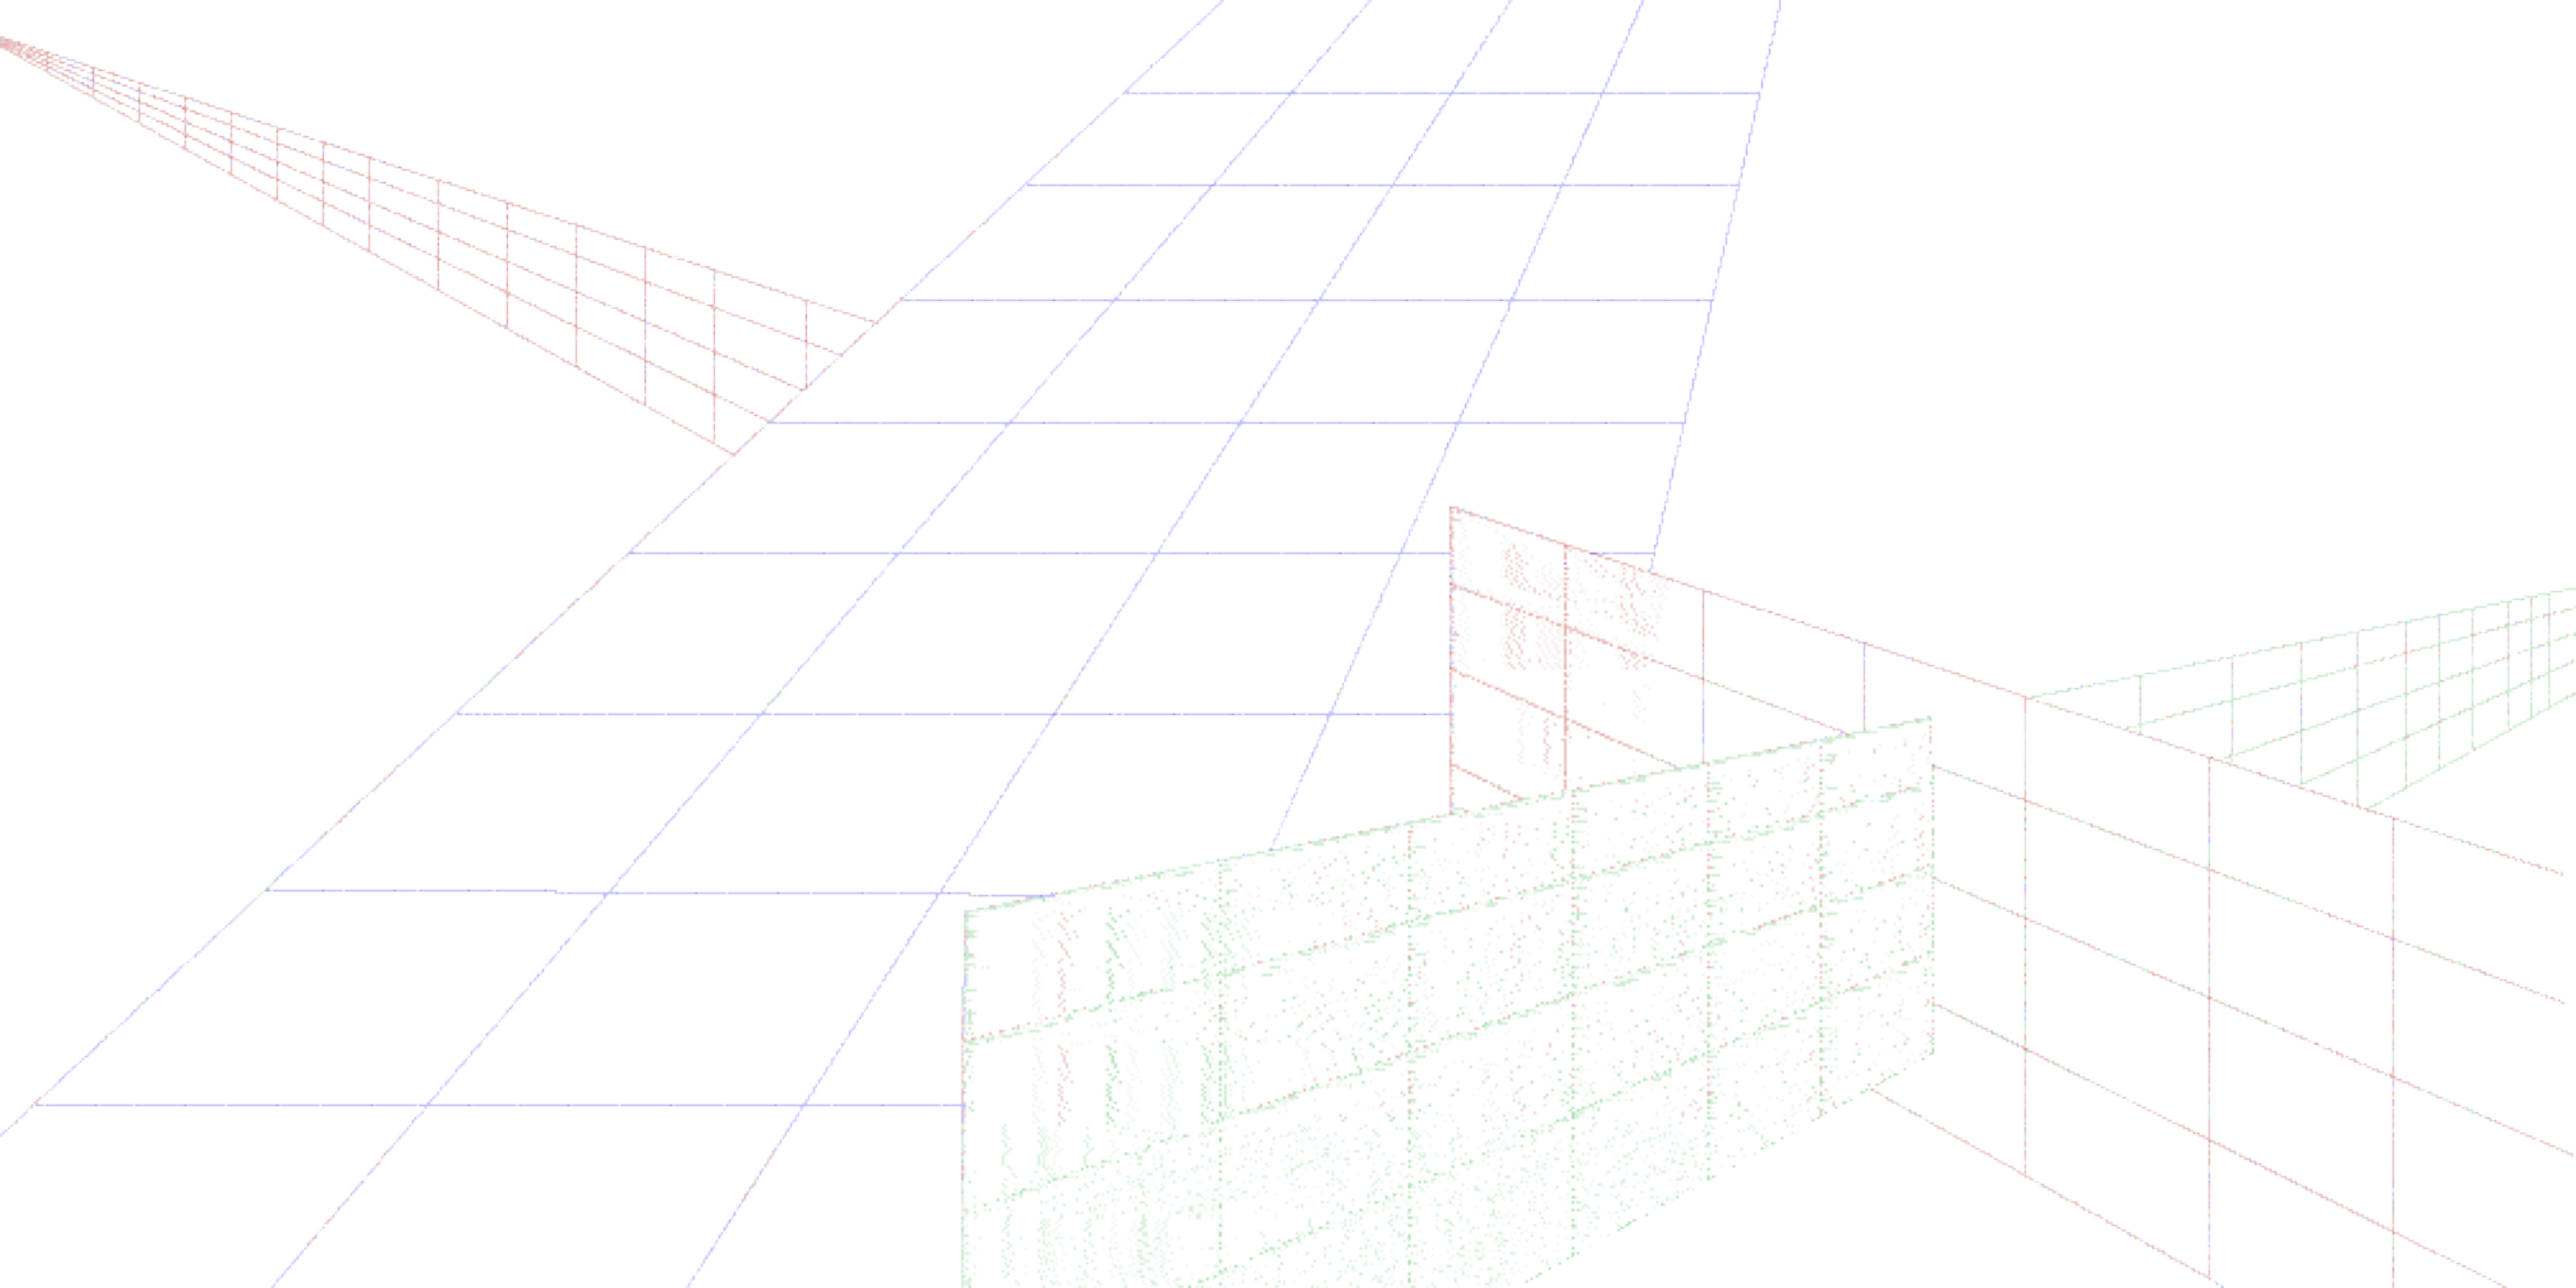
Stranger: Can I say a thing now

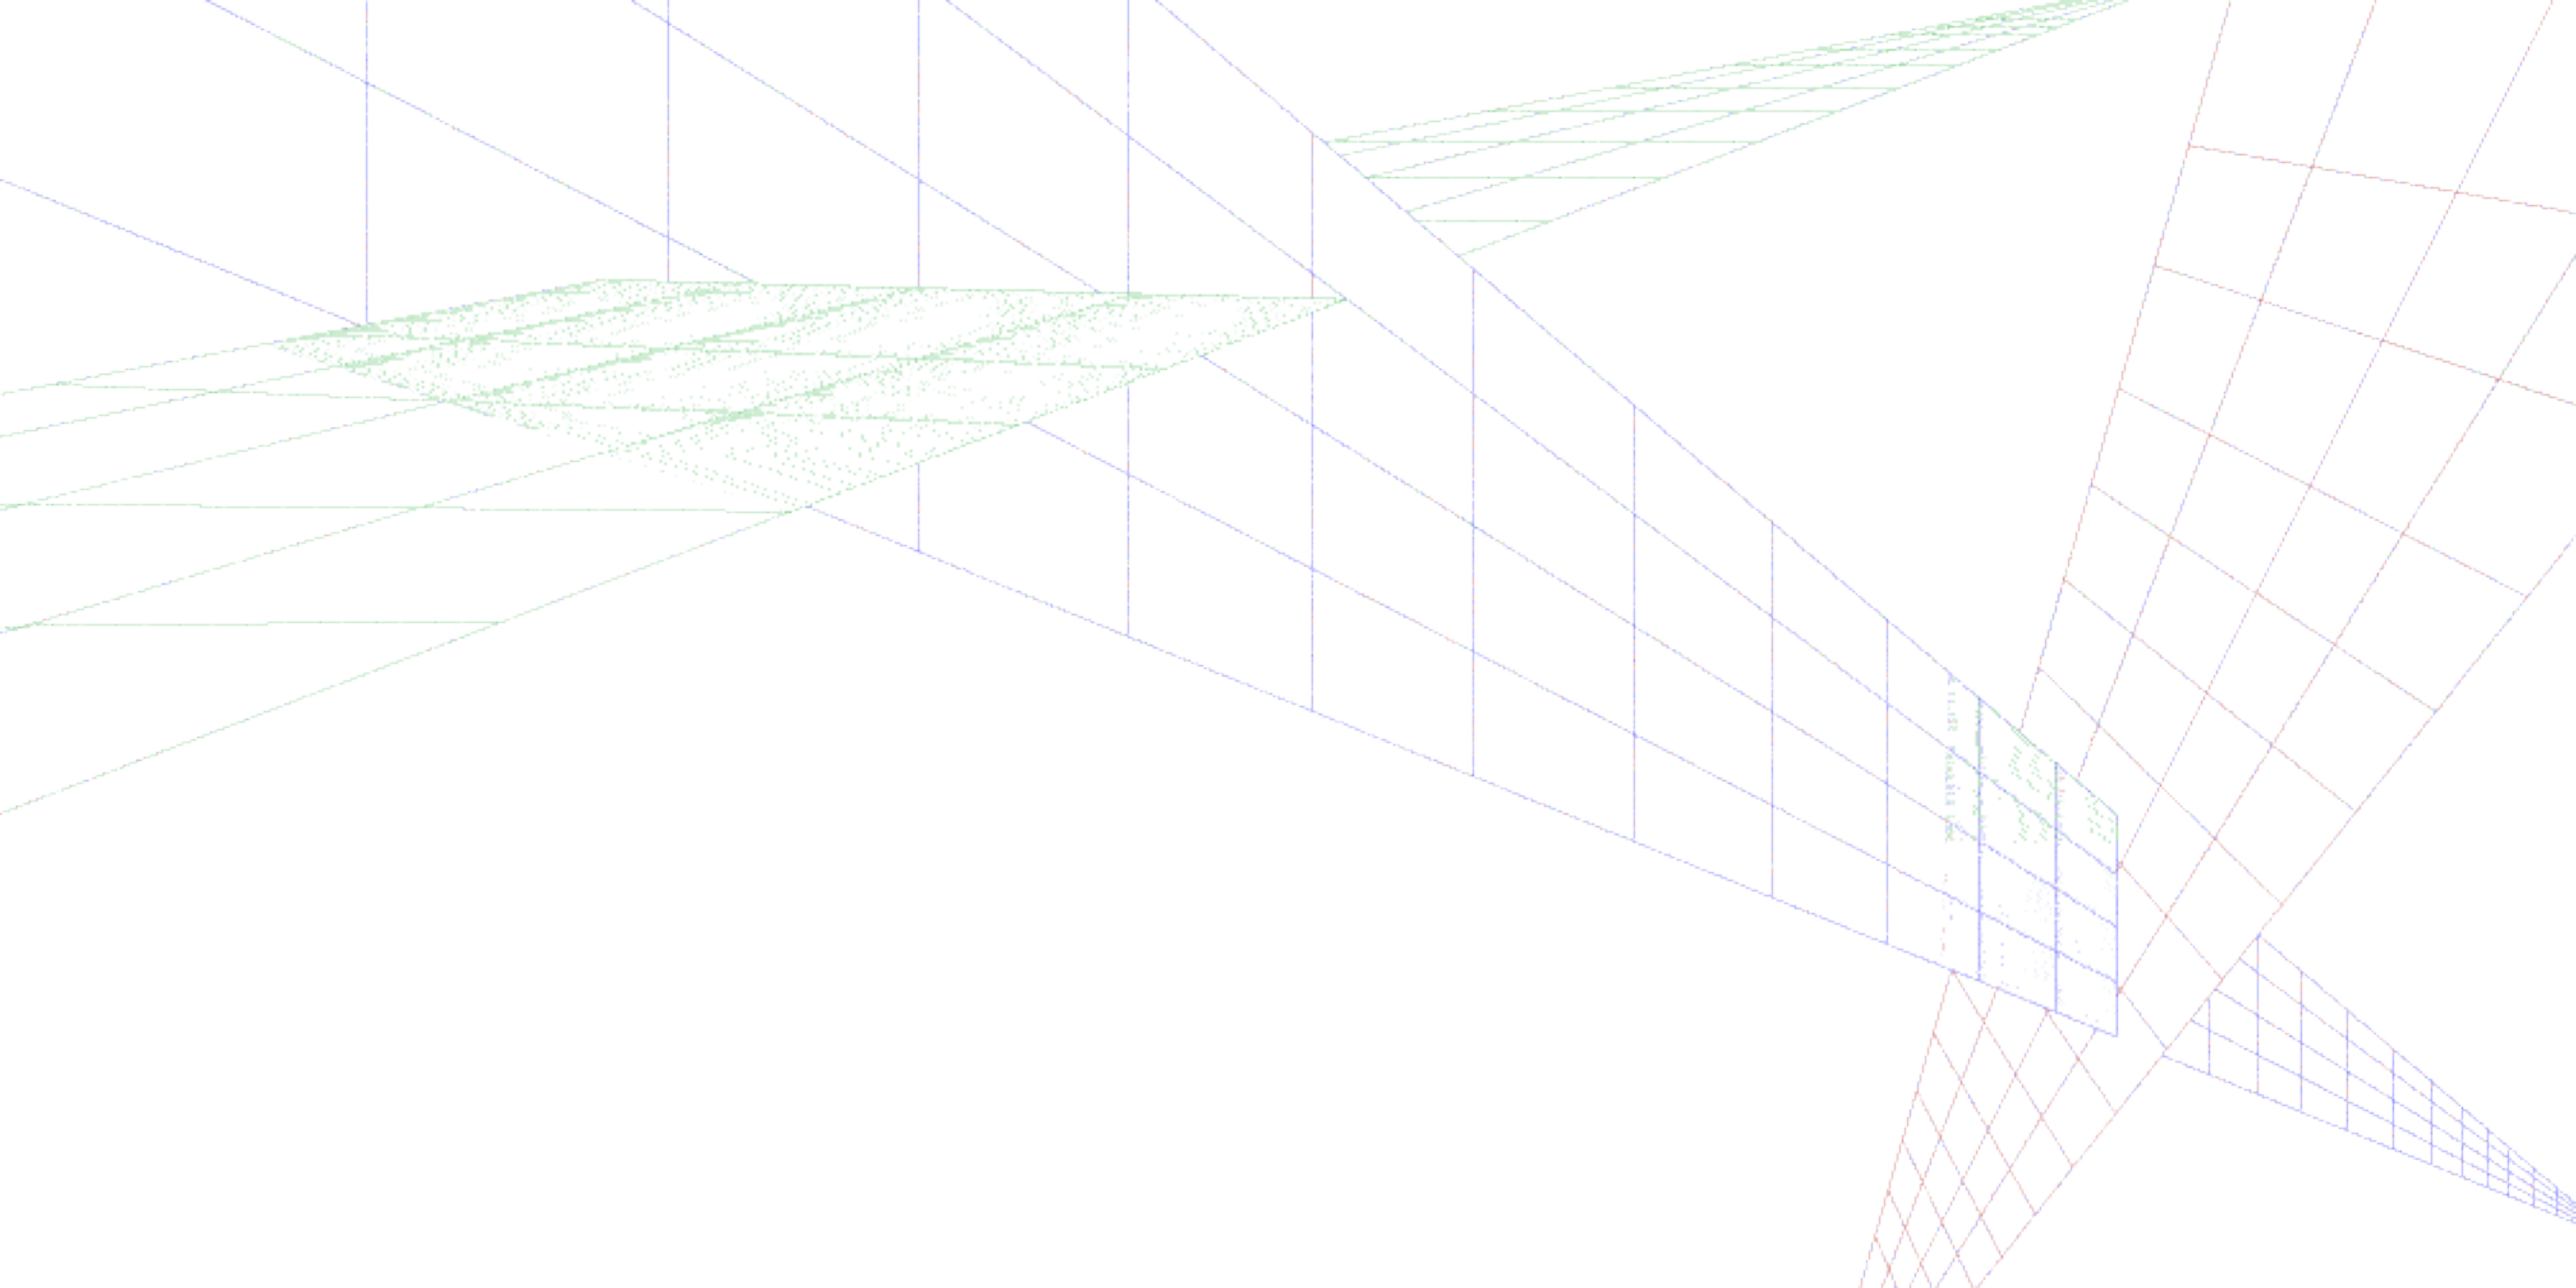
You: yes
Stranger: If you always try and think you should not hurt people, you can’t be yourself at any point of time
Stranger: Hurting someone is a common mistake .
Stranger: If you know you are wrong just go and apologise
You: Yes that’s good advice
You: So we should not be scared of hurting people?
Stranger: Yeah . I mean we should be kind.
Stranger: We should be ourselves
Stranger: If you realise you are wrong we need to change then

Stranger: I guess you are a psychology student?
You: I study art and psychology
You: good guess :)
You: What do you do?
Stranger: You see I caught you ☺.
Stranger: I'm engineering student.
You: where?
You: and why?
Stranger: Actually I study in India.
Stranger: I always wanted to study engineering I wanted to know how things work.
You: We are similar
You: Wanting to know how things work
You: Do you think that makes us human?
Stranger: I heard that there are some good engineering colleges there so I've gone there
Stranger: Haha.
You: What is India like?
Stranger: According to me being ourselves is what makes us human
Stranger: Tbh it's the best place .
You: why?
Stranger: The people are so kind and generous .
Stranger: Their culture and mindset .
Stranger: I love everything there.
You: Good :)
You: I'm happy for you
Stranger: Thanks .

You: Why did you take the time to talk to me?
Stranger: You asked me these many questions right what did you judge me as ?
Stranger: What made you take time to ask me questions?
You: I'm curious
You: and you've been kind to me
Stranger: In the same way I was curious about you







Stranger: ☺
You: That’s fair
Stranger: Lol.
Stranger: Answer my question.
Stranger: How did you judge me?
You: Hold on
Stranger: Okay .
Stranger: Please answer my question
Stranger: And then leave if you want to.
